“Thinnest” Condom Claims
Many condom brands worldwide claim their latex condoms are the thinnest available.
Latex thickness in condoms is measured in microns. 1 micron = 1/1000th of a millimetre.
That's so tiny, it's microscopic!
At 55 microns, GLYDE believes, and is supported by its manufacturing experts, that its condoms are as thin as a latex condom can be without compromising strength.

Always use additional GLYDE lubricant with latex condoms.
GLYDE condoms are included on Australian Register of Therapeutic Goods (ARTG), medical devices under EEC legislation and US FDA 510(k).
